

GUION DE GEIS, NOBILITY OF THE REGION OF VAR: PAMPELONNE, MIRAVAL, ROCHEMAURE & VIVARAIS, FRANCE

GUION de GEIS nobleite and old native of Vivarais was a great allie and trained several other sectors of the Lords of the remaining Pampellonne. The names of Guion or Guyon are numerous in the thirteenth & fourteenth century in France. Lordship of Pampellonne then belonged to Chevalier (Knight) Astorga de Geis, after which came Guillaume de Geis & is then paillée to Josserand de Guion with names & armies of de Geis. Pierre de Guion de Barre, Damoiseau, Audibert de Barre, Damoiseau, noble Pons de Guion, Damoiseau, Raimond de Guion, his brother, Barthelemi de Guion and Jean de Guion. The nicknames of Barri or Barre & Rambaud or Rambeau de la Roche, particularly that of Rambaud, is employed to remind others of acts and to set one Raimond or Pons apart from another while retaining their nobility as descendants, along with noble property & seigneurial rights in what we appelloit then the pastoral letters and justify acts of that time.

*Antoine Guion, was a tutor or regent for grammar school age students. He lived for short periods of time in homes of wealthy French families (catholic). He professed to be of the reformed religion and abdicated Catholicism in 1653. Certificates were filed with the court and the church to show that his religious views may affect the children and so he had his license to teach revoked in 1668. After 33 years he agreed to return to the Catholic Church provided his family be left alone and he be allowed to teach again 1701.
